

Standard Codes used for ADAMS Import Files
Document Version 2.5

Preface

This document contains lists of codes used when importing data into ADAMS. It is intended to be used by technical users who need to produce files intended to be imported into ADAMS (e.g. analytical results submitted by laboratories and lists of athletes belonging to sporting organizations).

If any code is missing or incorrect, please notify the ADAMS Administrator at WADA, at the address adams@wada-ama.org.

1 SPORT AND DISCIPLINE CODES

ADAMS will accept any of the following sport and discipline codes in an import file. They may be used to describe an athlete's primary sport or the sport associated with an anti-doping test result.

The following list is based upon official IOC and IPC Summer and Winter Sports. ADAMS supports additional sports (for example World Games); if you require additional sport and discipline codes not listed here, please contact the ADAMS Administrator at WADA.

As with other types of import files, records containing incorrect codes will cause ADAMS to reject the import file.

2 COUNTRY CODES

ADAMS will accept any of the following country codes in an import file. They may be used to describe an athlete's country of primary residence (R1); his or her nationality; or the country for which he or she competes internationally.

Records containing incorrect codes will cause ADAMS to reject the import file.

3 REGION CODES

ADAMS will accept any of the following region codes in an import file. They may be used to describe an athlete's region of primary residence (R1).

These codes are produced and maintained by the International Standards Organization (ISO) in Geneva, Switzerland.

Records containing incorrect codes will cause ADAMS to reject the import file.
